

SECOND WATER MAIN TO NORTH SIDE IS VOTED

Dixon Water Co. to Install Main at Its Own Expense

Improved water service and fire protection will be given the residents of the north side of the river by the Dixon Water Company, at its own expense and with no help from the city in the way of additional rental, as the result of action taken unanimously by the stockholders of the company, who at their annual meeting Tuesday authorized the directors and officers to install a new main across the river.

The action was taken after General Manager Glen F. Coe had explained that he felt the water company was charging for fire protection on the north side of the river which it could not give if anything should happen to the present main. Accordingly the officers will act to secure bids for the installation of an auxiliary eight or ten inch main, probably below the dam, and at a probable cost of from $12,000 to $15,000.

The news of the company's contemplated improvement will bring satisfaction to all north siders, and when the main is installed and put into service they will have a sense of added security in the knowledge that an accident to one main cannot shut off their water supply.

Year's Improvement
At the meeting Manager Coe recounted the construction of a new circular reservoir at the company's pumping station, at a cost of $3,000, the repair of the old one, and their being hooked up so that they can both be utilized in case of emergency, giving a total capacity of approximately 850,000 gallons.

Mr. Coe also told the stockholders that during the year well No. 1, which had been out of service for several years, was equipped with pump and power and can now be used at any time. This insures the company with well supply in case repairs are needed on the equipment of the second well, and it also is a resource in case of fire emergency, as the company now has three wells equipped in such manner that approximately 3,000 gallons of water can be lifted every minute.

During the year the company installed about sixteen blocks of new mains and approximately seventy-five new services of various sizes.

Officers Elected
Officers of the company for the ensuing year, chosen by the stockholders Tuesday, are:

President—Henry C. Warner.
Vice President—W. W. Gilbert.
Secretary-Treasurer and General Manager—Glen F. Coe.
Directors—Amos H. Bosworth and A. P. Armstrong.

SAY LINDY HAS "WET AND DRY" ON FAMOUS TRIP

That Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is flying the Sikorsky amphibian plane which visited Dixon last summer on his current flight to Central America, inaugurating aerial mail service between the United States and that part of the western hemisphere, is considered probable by Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Newcomer, brother-in-law and sister of Charles R. Walgreen, former owner of the "Wet and Dry," who sponsored the flight of the big plane to Dixon twice. On each of the visits of the plane here many Dixonites were given rides in it, and to them it will be of especial interest to know that the great "Lone Eagle" may be piloting it across the southern seas and countries.

Mr. Walgreen, it is stated, recently re-sold the "Wet and Dry" to the manufacturers, who announced that it would probably be used in the inauguration of the mail service to the south; but whether this plan was carried out is not definitely known here. Mr. Walgreen plans to purchase a new, larger and improved amphibian plane in the spring.

Mayor Reappoints Hospital Directors

Mrs. Gertrude Russell, Mrs. Esther Davies and Mrs. Laura Miller were reappointed last evening by Mayor Frank D. Miller to serve as directors of the Dixon public hospital, the city council confirming the appointments by a unanimous vote. The regular monthly list of bills amounting to $3,081.39 were read and paid.

Next week the board of local improvements will meet Tuesday evening at which time the public hearing on the proposed $12,000 storm water system will be held. The council meeting next week will not be held until Wednesday evening, Tuesday being a legal holiday.

REYNOLDS PLANTS HAVE CAFETERIAS FOR THE EMPLOYEES

Fine, Sanitary Cafeterias Supply Lunches to 200 Daily

The success of the cafeteria at the east end plant of the Reynolds Wire company, arranged for the convenience of the employees, has necessitated the opening of a similar project at the weaving plant. The second cafeteria has been in operation for the past two weeks and the two eating places are patronized by approximately 200 employees daily.

The cafeterias are arranged in a very attractive manner and are strictly sanitary throughout. Sandwiches, plate lunches or a full meal may be obtained, with a wide variety of meats and other dishes. Electric refrigeration is used throughout both cafeterias, which are under the supervision of an expert chef. Only the best of home made pastries are served. The dairy products, butter, cream and milk, are the product of the tuberculosis tested Jersey herd at the Reynolds farm. Soft drinks, candies and other delicacies are also obtainable at the cafeteria.

GASOLINE TAX BILL INTRODUCED BEFORE HOUSE AND SENATE

Gov. Emmerson's Measure For Road Funds Before Legislature

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6—(AP)—Governor Emmerson's gasoline tax bill, which he believes to be the only solution for the problem of handling funds to complete the state's hard road system, was before the state legislature today. It provides a three cent tax to be paid by consumers.

The measure was introduced in the senate last night by Senator Martin B. Carlson, president pro tem. It had already been introduced in the House by Representative Homer J. Tice.

Today's session of the House was expected to be enlivened by the rebuttal of Representative Lottle Holman O'Neil to the remarks of Speaker David E. Shanahan yesterday when he denied creating a committee chairmanship from her because of influence of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Congresswoman-at-Large.

Sheriff's Bill Introduced.
Constitutional amendments permitting sheriffs to succeed themselves were introduced in both houses yesterday.

Increase in the pay of assemblymen was proposed by Representative Calvin T. Weeks. He would raise their salary from $3,500 to $6,000. His bill was referred to committee.

The appropriations committee is the first house group to meet this session. Headed by Homer Tice, the committee last night passed a favorable report on the bill appropriating the salary of Emmett F. Wilson of Rockford who died before the session began. The House Judiciary committee will meet late today to consider the three pending bills providing for the recording of conditional sales.

Conflicting Reports Add To Mystery Of Trotzky's Location

London, Feb. 6—(AP)—Berlin newspapers today published reports from Novno, Lithuania, that Leon Trotzky had arrived in Moscow in custody of secret police and was being held in a suburb there, pending completion of arrangements for his exile.

London, Feb. 6—(AP)—A maze of conflicting reports today had Leon Trotzky in as many as six or seven widely separated places.

The story that he was aboard the Soviet steamer Kransk Flot, arriving at Constantinople today after surviving a tempest in the Black Sea, continued to be current, but was flatly denied by Moscow officials. No further official information was obtained, but dispatches from the Soviet capital indicated an understanding in some quarters there that the former war commissar was still at Alma Ata, Russian Turkestan. It is said he possibly is pondering his answer to a reported Moscow ultimatum that he make unequivocal surrender to the centrist committee, or suffer exile abroad.

Since it became understood late last month that Trotzky's exile had been decreed by the Moscow government there has been an almost complete dearth of authoritative information concerning him.

QUEEN MARIA OF SPAIN DIED AT MADRID TODAY

Woman Who Ruled Spain During War With U. S. Dead

Madrid, Feb. 6—(AP)—Maria Christina, Queen Mother of Spain, who reigned during the Spanish-American war, died at the royal hospital at 3:30 a. m. today.

AWAITS DANE MONARCH

Madrid, Feb. 6—(AP)—Death of Queen Mother Maria Christina and pending arrival of the King and Queen of Denmark here tended today to overshadow Spain's political situation.

An official government statement yesterday said it was "not expected" anyone would make an attempt against order or public peace during the visit of the Danish royalties. Measures were to be taken by police, however, to see that no one carried arms. The royal visitors left Paris yesterday for Madrid.

Yesterday evening the Queen Mother saw a motion picture show with the royal family at the palace. Her illness developed soon afterward. All official receptions arranged in connection with the visit of the King and Queen of Denmark have been suspended.

She died at the royal palace at 3:30 a. m. today.

Her son, Alfonso XIII, King of Spain, and members of the royal family were at her bedside when the end came.

Maria Christina ruled Spain as regent from 1885 until 1902. When her son, Alfonso, who was born six months after the death of his father, Alfonso XII, in 1885, became old enough to assume the throne.

HEFLIN STARTS RELIGIOUS ROW IN U. S. SENATE

Sharp Exchanges Follow His Offer of Amendment to Ship Bill

Washington, Feb. 6—(AP)—Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, revived an old proposal of his yesterday—that the flying of church pennant above the American flag during church services at sea be prohibited—the result being that the religious issue which has been dormant for the most part at this session of Congress was also revived.

Heflin's proposal, made as an amendment to the cruiser bill, was beaten, the vote being 68 to 10, but before the roll call there were sharp exchanges.

After Heflin offered the amendment, Senator Bruce of Maryland declared that it was inspired by the Ku Klux Klan. Heflin vigorously denied this, but he retorted that Bruce's statement was inspired by the Knights of Columbus. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, rose to protest that Heflin's proposal was an attack against the emblem of God.

Borah Asks Roll Call
As the argument grew hotter, Senator Heflin declared that if Bruce wanted him to go on record he would do so and said that he (Heflin) objected to the church pennant because he believed it was the flag of the Roman Catholic Church. This brought Senator Borah, of Idaho, into a discussion. Borah declared he had no objection to the Heflin amendment originally but "in view of the debate," he wanted a roll call.

During his interchange with Bruce, Heflin accused the Maryland Senator of bringing the religious issue into the debate and characterized Bruce as the "mouthpiece of the Knights of Columbus."

Senator Gerry, Democrat, Rhode Island, who was defeated for reelection last fall, objected to the amendment, insisting that the cross of the chaplain's flag was not a Roman cross but was adopted from the flag used in the British navy.

"When I assailed the Catholic program in the Senate last spring," Heflin said, "the Senator from Rhode Island came to the Catholics' rescue and I predicted then he would be defeated."

BREAK RECORDS FOR CROSSING WEST TO EAST

Captain Hawks Flies Coast to Coast in 18 Hours, 21 Minutes

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)—Captain Frank Hawks and his mechanic, Oscar E. Grubb, who overcame fog, wind and sleet to establish a non-stop flight record from Los Angeles to New York were invited to the city hall at noon today to receive the official welcome of the city.

Soaring high to avoid bad weather and for more than half the distance flying blind Captain Hawks piloted his Lockheed Vega plane Air Express, across the continent in 18 hours, 21 minutes and 59 seconds. He bettered by 36 minutes and one second the record for west to east flight established last August by Arthur Goebel and the late Harry Tucker.

Hawks, attired in a fur coat and flying boots over a business suit and brightly shined shoes, appeared little the worse for the experience. But Grubb, who, cramped into the cabin had measured off the hours and the miles by opening cans of fuel and pumping it into the tank, was goggy from gas fumes and had to be helped from the plane.

Although he had partaken of no nourishment during the flight, Hawks deferred a meal of sandwiches and coffee long enough to recount their experiences.

"I would have made it three hours sooner with decent weather," he said, "but there were times when I didn't know whether we would ever land at all."

"We had bad winds almost all the way across—winds, clouds, rain sleet and snow. We hit the weather at Roswell, N. M. and never got out of it until we hit West Virginia. All that time I was flying between 8,000 and 14,000 feet trying to get away from the weather."

Crazed Man Trapped By Tear Gas Bombs in Fortified House

Columbia, Ill., Feb. 6—(AP)—Adam Daab, 40, who ran amuck yesterday, terrorized neighbors and then barricaded himself in his home here and defied officers for nine hours, was in jail today at Waterloo after authorities had resorted to the use of tear gas bombs to rout him.

Finally captured in a bedroom of his home soon after midnight this morning, police said Daab had three shotguns, an ax and a hatchet in his possession. No one was injured in the capture and no shots were fired.

Daab, said by police to have once been confined in a sanitarium, caused alarm yesterday by menacing his neighbors. When police were called he barricaded himself in the house by piling furniture in front of the doors. He threatened to kill officers as they approached the house and the vigil began.

GERMAN HERO OF TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT IS DEAD

Baron von Huenefeld, Adventurer, Victim of Operating Table

Berlin, Feb. 6—(AP)—Disease has cut short a life which triumphed over some of the greatest hazards of war and aviation.

Death came last night to Baron Eberhard Gunther von Huenefeld, one of the three men who made the first westward air passage of the north Atlantic. He died on the operating table at a Berlin sanitarium last night as surgeons sought to remedy a stomach and intestinal ailment which had marred his last years. His heart failed to withstand the shock of the operation.

Baron von Huenefeld was only 36 years old, but he had an adventurous career of soldier, German monarchist, poet and dramatist, and, finally, aviator.

Shrapnel wounds in both legs during the world war left him with a decided limp.

It is as aviator he will be remembered. The flight which brought him prominence took place in April last year with Capt. Herman Koehl of Germany and Col. James Fitzmaurice of Ireland, sharing the controls, the three in the plane Bremer, flew from Baldonnel air field, Dublin, to Greenley Island, Labrador, where they waited two weeks in the ice and snow to be taken out.

THINK COMMUNISM MAY HAVE INSPIRED RIOTING IN INDIA

Nineteen Known Dead in Hindu-Moslem Conflicts

Bombay, India, Feb. 6—(AP)—Three persons were killed and six wounded tonight when troops fired upon rioting Moslems.

There have been Moslem-Hindu troubles here for several days, with the fighting between religious factions steadily growing in intensity.

The troops fired when a crowd of Moslems started to chase a carriage which was conveying a wounded Hindu to a hospital. The action saved the wounded man from the mob.

Bombay, India, Feb. 6—(AP)—General Hindu-Moslem conflict was feared here today as riots between Hindu mill hands and Pathans-Indian Mohammedans continued.

The disturbances seemed to be spreading southward from the disturbed quarter and it was believed even more drastic measures than those already invoked would be necessary to quell the fighting.

There were nineteen known dead, most of them Pathans, while the injured list exceeded 100. Troops with fixed bayonets patrolled streets while machine gun parties were stationed at important road junctions.

Owing to the gravity of the situation the new Governor of Bombay, Sir Frederick Sykes, whose wife is the daughter of the former English premier, the late Andrew Bonar Law, postponed his previously arranged trip to Delhi to meet the Indian Viceroy.

There is some speculation as to the significance of the cry of the anti-Pathan mobs, "Victory to the red flag." Some interpret it as an indication of communist instigation of the rioting there has been little of this hitherto in India, however.

The rioting began Monday when stories were spread that Pathans had kidnapped children of Hindus to sacrifice them in connection with the construction of a new bridge.

Bath-House John Is To Have No Trouble Staying On Council

Chicago, Feb. 6—(AP)—It may now be predicted, with a reasonable degree of certainty that "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, fashion plate and poet laureate of the city council, will be elected to his nineteenth term as alderman February 26.

Assurance became doubly sure with the announcement that Bath House John's only opposition, Edward T. Joria, had decided a contest would be futile.

"In view of your long record in representing the first ward of our city," Joria told Coughlin yesterday, "I see no reason why another two years should become a matter of electoral quibbling between us. I congratulate you and the people."

"I thank you," said Alderman Coughlin, "and I shall endeavor to merit the continued support of my constituency."

SAW THREE WOLVES

Sunday afternoon Fred Reider, a farmer residing west of Mendota, saw three large wolves in a field, to which he immediately gave chase, armed with his shot gun. Several neighbors joined him in the hunt, which resulted in the death of one of the animals, weighing about 65 pounds. The other two escaped although the hunters spent several hours searching for them.

HOOPER TO TRY TARPON FISHING ON WEST COAST

Will Go To Florida West Coast Monday to Lunch and Fish

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 6—(AP)—President-elect Hoover has his heart set on catching a tarpon before he leaves Florida for Washington late this month; consequently, he is seeking to work out a plan to spend three or four days on the west coast next week to attempt to add this big game fish to his catch.

Mr. Hoover is going to Fort Myers next Monday to attend a birthday luncheon for Thomas A. Edison and he probably will set out for the tarpon grounds late that day to remain until Thursday evening. Reports now are being sought from various points on the west coast as to the best place to try for this species.

Mr. Hoover is going to put in several afternoons this week fishing off Biscayne Bay as he did yesterday. He will spend his forenoons at his offices near the pre-inaugural home on Belle Isle, receiving callers and taking care of correspondence.

Most of the work of the President-elect is done in the quiet of his study at the J. C. Penney estate during the evenings. There he is shaping his inaugural address which he hopes to have completed before he gets back to Washington for a final round of conferences with party leaders before his inauguration.

Last night at 11:40 he reported to the police the theft of his seven passenger Nash sedan, which he had parked in front of the Knights of Columbus club house on Third street about 8 o'clock. Some time ago his Ford sedan was stolen in Rock Falls but was later recovered.

FRAGMENTS

THIS fragile snow,
Falling so silently,
Falling so rhythmically,
Is it not music,
Crystallized melody,
Pouring from organ pipes
In the high heavens
And thence descending,
Healing and blessing,
Sweet though inaudible?

This silent snow,
Falling so softly,
Falling so tenderly,
Shows it not love divine,
Love of the All Father
For his wee children
Sleeping in fence-rows,
In field and in forest,
So to secure them
Through the long winter?

—Frances Higgins.

Nat'l P. T. A. Wants Cabinet Recognition Of Nation's Schools

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Cabinet recognition of the nation's schools, one of the aims of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will receive the support of the Illinois organization, Mrs. Walter H. Buhlig, vice-president has announced.

A resolution endorsing the action of the national congress is to be introduced at the thirtieth annual state convention in Mattoon, April 17-20. It is expected to be adopted without opposition. The text of the resolution follows:

"We believe that cabinet recognition should be accorded our nation's schools, to which is assigned the important task of fitting some 27,000,000 school children for wholesome living and good citizenship. Therefore, we endorse the decision of the National Congress to do all within its power to bring about the creation of a Federal department of Education with the secretary a member of the President's cabinet.

"Likewise, we determine it to be the policy of the state association to support the movement for a department of education, which would coordinate the educational activities of the federal government, gather information and publish reports of the studies of school problems, thus exercising leadership in education in this country."

Phidian Art Club Had Meeting Tuesday

Guests Entertained For Miss Fluck

Nelson—Mrs. Aaron Fluck entertained 20 young folks Saturday evening at their country home north of Nelson in honor of her daughter, Mabel, who enjoyed several days' vacation from her studies at the University of Illinois. Music and games were enjoyed and later in the evening the hostess served a dainty lunch.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—California grapes, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs with bacon, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
Lunch—Parsnip chowder, orange salad, date bread, rice pudding, milk, tea.

Dinner—English mutton chops, potato marbles in parsley butter, creamed turnips, spinach and egg salad, peach spider cake, milk, coffee.

Date bread is delicious to serve with tea in the afternoon or will be popular in the school lunch box. Cream cheese makes an excellent filling if sandwiches are wanted.

Date Bread
One cup stored and chopped dates, 1 cup bread flour, 1½ cups graham flour, ¼ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 cup milk.

Mix flour, sugar, salt and baking powder. Add milk and vanilla and beat well. Add dates and melted butter and mix thoroughly. Turn into an oiled bread pan and let stand in a warm place for 20 minutes. Bake one hour in a moderate oven.
This rule is particularly good during the winter months when eggs are high and sour milk is not always on hand.

Women Ask Governor to Appoint Board

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Fearful that the $300,000 appropriation made by the 55th General Assembly for a women's reformatory will lapse because of inaction, the Illinois League of Women Voters has asked Governor Louis L. Emmerson to name an advisory board so that contracts may be let.

Establishment of a state reformatory for women and appropriation of $300,000 for the purchase of a site and erection of buildings was provided in a bill passed at the last session of the legislature. The bill became a law July 1, 1927 and the appropriation was available immediately. The appropriation will lapse July 1, 1929 if the contracts are not let by that time and all money must be paid by September 30 this year. The bill provided for an advisory board of five, three women and two men, to be appointed by the governor, this board to confer with the department of public welfare about plans for the institution, both before and after its establishment.

The state committee on an Illinois reformatory for women, a joint committee composed of representatives of organizations and women's clubs throughout the state and Chicago, drew up a list of persons desirable for the advisory board and presented this to Governor Small. He retired from office without making the appointments. Governor Emmerson has promised the committee to give the matter his attention. The committee fears that it may be necessary to secure a renewal of the appropriation from the legislature, unless action is taken soon.

At this time the newlyweds were presented with a lovely gift from those present with the best wishes of all for their future happiness and prosperity. The Bidding: South obtains contract for one no-trump.

Deciding the Play: West leads 3 of hearts and Declarer must take trick with King of hearts. What card should Declarer now play to insure game?

The Error: Declarer leads 4 of diamonds and takes with King of diamonds in the Dummy whereupon it develops that East is blank of the suit and West holds the Jack of diamonds with three others.

The Correct Method: To insure making game, Declarer must make five tricks in diamonds. Declarer plays Queen of diamonds to ascertain the distribution of the four missing cards in that suit. With this information, he is in the position to finesse to capture all of them no matter how they are distributed.

The Principle: Endeavor to retain a commanding honor in each hand for successful finessing.

To Have Court of Awards For Girl Scouts Saturday Eve.

All the Girl Scout Troops of Dixon are participating in a Court of Awards to be held on Saturday evening at 7:30 in the Auditorium of the South Side high school. At this time a number of girls will be awarded Tenderfoot pins, Second Class Badges, First Class Badges and Proficiency Badges. These badge awards represent a great deal of time spent by the girls and a steady gain in helpful things. They have studied for the test and have then appeared before badge examiners, who have questioned them sufficiently to know that they are worthy of the award.

Besides the Court of Awards Committee of the Local Girl Scout Council's presentation of badges there will be a program, in which every Troop in Dixon is represented.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Court of Awards. If you are uncertain as to what Girl Scouting is—you are particularly urged to come and perhaps grasp some idea of what an important thing Girl Scouting is to the girls of your community.

Bill for Women on Juries Appears in General Assembly

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Sponsored by a half dozen women's organizations and tacitly approved by Governor Louis L. Emmerson, the proposal to allow women to serve on juries in Illinois has made its appearance in the Illinois legislature.

Bills embodying the proposal were introduced in both houses, by Senator John R. Hamilton of Mattoon and Representative Rena Elrod. The governor's approval is drawn from the paragraph in his inaugural message promising "careful consideration to any legislative proposals sponsored by women."

The bills have the backing of the Illinois Committee for Women on Juries which includes as members the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, the Illinois League of Women Voters, the Women's Bar Association, the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the Illinois Women's Trade Union League.

Of the three bills, two amend the jury act, applying to downstate and the jury Commissioner's act for Cook county, to provide that jury lists shall be made up of electors of "both sexes." The third bill provides that in criminal cases the men and women members of the jury may be separated when court is not in session and when the jury is not deliberating on the verdict.

Similar bills have twice been passed by the senate but as yet have never received the approval of the lower branch. This year, however, sponsors of the bill feel that chances are brighter as indicated by the fact that the new county jails in both Jackson and Cook counties are equipped with rooms for women jurors.

Women are now serving on juries in twenty-one other states, including the nearby commonwealths of Indiana, Kentucky, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Looking over the situation, Miss Edith Rockwood, public affairs secretary of the League of Women Voters has been conferring in Springfield with the legislators. She reported that her organization will also support the driver's license bill, the women's eight hour working day bill, and any proposals for increasing the state distributive school fund.

—Ethel— DO YOU WEAR A "U"?

MRS. EMMERSON LAUGHS AS SHE RECALLS DAYS OF COURTSHIP

BY MORRIS WATSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Dressed in her best, ribbons in her hair, Annie Matthews, pert and gay went to her first big party. There at Albion, Illinois, she was to plunge for the first time into high school social life. It is no wonder the horses couldn't go fast enough on the ten mile drive from Grayville.

But once at the party Annie's eyes found the high school band. Indeed, it was a band that attracted attention. Her eyes traveled rapidly over the bright uniforms and finally rested on a youth with an infectious smile.

How romantic he looked! He sure could handle that horn. Not even ice cream and cake could detract Annie. Here was the most interesting thing of her young life—a boy in a spangled uniform. She saw a prince and a ruler. Her dreams carried her far from the party.

Before she knew it she was being introduced—to him!
A half century has passed since then. The horse has given way to the auto and the mud to concrete. Radio carries most of the music and parties are held in different style.

And Annie? She presides over the executive mansion in Springfield, the first lady of a great state. The boy in the spangled uniform, if not actually a prince, enjoys equal rank for in the Governor's office one will find the same infectious smile that captured Annie's heart fifty years ago.

—Ethel—

—Ethel—

Mrs. Louis L. Emmerson laughs heartily over the courtship days that Lou Emmerson saw his girl at high school daily and it was there that romance blossomed. When he called on her, he had to drive ten miles, and some times the mud was so contrary the trip consumed four or five hours.

As in all romances there were little quarrels. Lou was raised in a Republican family and Annie was a staunch little Democrat. On such occasions he would stomp pompously to his surrey, vowing aloud that he would not return again.

Of course Annie would fling back a "don't care" but she knew he would come back. About the time she would begin to think Lou really meant this resolve, up he would drive with all quarrels forgot. Annie, secretly tickled, nevertheless made him repent as she pretended still to be indignant.

Lou drove her to fairs and political rallies, where there were bands and speeches, popcorn and confetti. The political rallies always drew a little teasing from Annie. She couldn't resist making fun of Lou's earnestness.

They were married after seven years of this courtship and they settled in Mt. Vernon where Lou made the strides of the career which was to make him the first citizen of the city and finally of the state. He operated a department store.

"But he was never satisfied to devote his time to just on business," Mrs. Emmerson revealed. "He worked at night at other things, either to improve himself or do something for Mt. Vernon. That is how he went into the banking business."

It was not until his brother Morris, needed his help that Governor Emmerson thought of a political career. "I would have objected to his going into politics if I had known it was going to be for more than four years," Mrs. Emmerson said. "I thought four years would be good for him—that he would meet men of affairs and find satisfaction in doing something new."

"But I have never said anything about his staying in politics and now I shan't."

"He has one ambition—to be the best governor Illinois ever had. Toward that end, I shall do all in my power to make his home life happy and comfortable."

Mrs. Emmerson is not herself interested in politics, although she has long since dropped from the classification of Democrat. Her career is her husband's career. She has no other.

Her hair is slightly grayed. Her enthusiasm and gaiety and a youthful smile had been undisturbed by the years. She likes the mansion, principally because it resembles the home she and Mr. Emmerson occupied many years ago in Mt. Vernon.

The present interview was interrupted when the governor appeared at the door of the drawing room. "Come in, Deanie," she hailed him.

YOUR CHILDREN
by Olive Roberts Barton
© 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

The best way to teach a young child generosity—and it must be taught young—is to have him give something to somebody he likes.

Usually tiny children are selfish. Do they want to give up a toy, part of a cake, or ride on their kiddy car? They do not.

A certain mother decided to use this plan in teaching her little girl to be generous.

"She started on a cookie. 'Give Mother half?' she begged. 'Two-year-old Rosie considered No? Yes. She made a sudden decision. She held it up and mother took a large bite. 'Now give Snappy a bite.' Snappy Quite Approves. Snappy wiggled his wet nose and looked hungry but his small mistress stuck the cake into her own mouth. It looked as though for that time, at least, Snappy would do without his daily sweet."

Her mother, being a tactician, did not command. The impulse to give must come from the baby. Suddenly the child held out the cake. Snappy snapped it up greedily. Rosie giggled delightedly. Snappy licked his lips.

But after all, Rosie liked Mother and she liked Snappy. Would she be so generous with Bobby, the stormy petrel next door, whom she didn't care for so much? Moreover cookies were only cookies. Rosie knew there were several dozens of them in the cake-box.

There were two psychological points still to be gained. One, to give to people she didn't particularly like; the other, to give away things she wanted very much for herself.

A Display of Wisdom

Her wise mother worked out one thing at a time, however. Rosie was induced to give Bobby half of her cookie one day. Her mother had Bobby in to play every day after that and every day she contrived to make Rosie's offering to him of more value. Then she began to invite other children in, always seeing to it that there was something to be divided or given away. And she had Rosie make the offering with her own hands. Another excellent point, by the way. Rosie did learn to be really generous.

But remember: generosity should be taught young.

TOKEN TO PIONEERS

Davenport, Neb.—(AP)—A $10,000 town library, a monument to the pioneers who settled this small town, has been built by the Women's club of Davenport. The club largely made up of the descendants of pioneers, took eight years to raise the money. One-third of it was raised the last year by all sorts of devices from rummage sales to benefit ball games. Gifts were made by pioneers still living or by their children. The American Legion gave a substantial sum.

CORINTHIAN SHRINE TO MEET FRIDAY EVENING

A meeting of Corinthian Shrine White Shrine of Jerusalem will be held at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple Friday evening which all members are invited to attend.

MARRIAGE PANS PUBLISHED SECOND TIME

Banns of marriage for Miss Helen Leonard and William Hellman have been read for the second time at St. Mary's Catholic church at Walton, both being members of that parish.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—RABBIT BEANS

A tasty supper or luncheon dish can be made by serving, upon thin slices of toast, hot string beans covered with rabbit sauce.

WHIPPED CREAM

Sometimes cream that is too thin, for whipping can be whipped stiff after it is chilled thoroughly and the unbeaten white of an egg or a few drops of lemon juice has been added.

FILLING CREVICES

There is a liquid cement on the market now that is excellent for filling crevices around the bath tub or on the tiled floor. Putty fills in wood cracks and can be painted so it is perfectly concealed. Cracks absorb moisture so it is a sanitary measure to keep them filled.

HANGING MAT

Hang the bathroom mat high if you would keep the floor tidy. A good way to encourage the family in this habit is to crochet two rings the mat's color, attach rings to corners of the mat and screw two hooks into the back of the bathroom door to hang it on.

NON-SLIP HANGERS

If you have slippery hangers and are bothered by frocks falling off, wind rubber elastic bands around the ends of each hanger or push a rubber tipped tack into the top of each end.

SANDWICH BUTTER

Work butter soft, as you do when baking a cake, to make thin sandwiches. To speed the process, add a few drops of hot water before working.

CEREAL VARIETY

Change the sweetening of the morning cereal and you get a pleasing variety. Grated maple sugar or brown sugar give a change. Better still, cook dates, figs, raisins or prunes right in the cereal. Children appreciate the different flavors.

FIREPLACE PAN

If your family enjoys an open fire every day of winter and the ashes problem is a knotty one, measure the base of your fire place, take it to a foundry or hardware store and order a pan made to fit with the front side open. This pan will cost little, is not noticeable and can be removed with the ashes intact.

HOT SALT GARGLES

Nothing is more efficacious in clearing throats mornings and hardening them against infection than the habit of hot salt gargles upon rising. Salt is also excellent for cleaning the teeth.

GERMANY'S NEW CRUISER.

Dispatches from Europe indicate that Germany has launched a new cruiser that may revolutionize warship construction.

Limited by the Versailles treaty to eight warships of 10,000 tons apiece, Germany has just launched her first one. While held in the 10,000-ton class, it is said to be far more powerful than any ship of its size afloat. It carries 11-inch guns, and is said to have a new type of armor far more effective than anything in existence.

It would be interesting if Germany, through improved technical methods, should be able to develop a fleet that could rank with those of her conquerors. Interesting, yet not surprising, after all. Modern war is becoming more and more a matter for technical experts, and Germany can meet any country in the world in that field.

PROSPERITY AND EDUCATION.

The amazing growth of secondary education in recent years is emphasized in a current bulletin from the Department of the Interior.

At the present time more than one-half of the population of high school age is in actual attendance at high school. In the cities this rate is even higher; in rural areas it is somewhat lower.

But what is noteworthy is the fact that 30 years ago not more than one-seventh of the young people of high school age went to high school. High school enrollments, indeed, have doubled since so late a date as 1920.

First of all, this reflects very plainly our greater prosperity. But its real significance, lies in the fact that education now is far more general than it ever was before. And since a democracy like ours must have an educated, intelligent citizenry, this is highly important.

ADJECTIVES.

If you plan to write anything, from a newspaper article to a novel, you would do well to consider remarks made by the late Senator Albert J. Beveridge, whose recent "Abraham Lincoln" is hailed as a masterpiece of biography.

Beveridge, pointing out that he used as few adjectives as possible said:

"Adjectives are like emergency medicine and must be given sparingly and seldom, like strychnine and other powerful stimulants. Adjectives often employed mean little or nothing. They are drugs that blur vision in the reader and save the toil of description. Great writers are not victims of the adjective habit."

Plain, unadorned writing is always the most forceful. This is a good thing for everyone to remember, from cub reporter to historian.

DISCARDING MILK BOTTLES.

The old glass milk bottle, a feature as characteristic of modern civilization, in its way, as the skyscraper, may be doomed.

New York dairies have introduced a new cardboard container. This affair, a glazed, water and moisture proof cone-shaped arrangement, has the approval of the state board of health, is much cheaper than the glass bottle and can be thrown into the wastebasket after the milk is used. According to early reports, it seems to be giving complete satisfaction both to customers and dairymen.

Life won't seem quite the same if we don't have the early morning "clink clink" of milk bottles to penetrate our dreams and warn us that it is almost time to get out of bed.

The bunch rushed right up on the bear, and Scouty shouted, "Have a care! He'll likely try to bite us. We'd best grab him by the feet. The rest of you all hold him tight and please hang on with all your might. I'll tie him. I know how to make quick knots that are real neat."

The bear began to squirm around and flopped right over on the ground. "He's getting up," yelled Scouty. "Maybe we had better run." But Scouty answered with a frown. "Aw, try real hard to hold him down. I'm sure that I can tie him, and I'll shortly have it done."

"Twice then the bear began to whine, and Copy said, "Well, say, that's fine. I really think he's frightened. We are masters of him now. If he was mad he'd wiggle loose, but now he figures it's no use. He knows that we are strong enough to manage him somehow."

By this time Mister Bear was tied.

The rope was wrapped around his hide, and all his feet were quite secure. Then Scouty jumped and said, "Well, so far everything's all right, unless he snaps or tries to bite. I wish we had a muzzle that would fit upon his head."

"Oh, look," cried Copy, "There's a man. Perhaps he'll tell us, if he can, what we can do with this poor bear." The man then walked up near. "Oh, please untie my bear," said he. "He's just as tame as he can be. He will not try to bite you, so there is no cause for fear."

"Off came the rope, and very quick, Wee Scouty shouted, "This is slick! I simply love a tame bear. They are playful, goodness knows." The bear then stood on all four feet. He really seemed quite glad to meet the Tinsies and the Tots. They all began to pat his nose.

(The bear does some tricks in the next story.)

THE INAUGURAL PAGEANT

From Washington to Hoover

BY ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

(Associated Press Feature Writer)
Washington—(AP)—Down Pennsylvania avenue, banked with cheering "log cabin" enthusiasts, Gen. William Henry Harrison, hero and standard bearer of the Whigs, rode on a white charger to the Capitol to become the ninth chief magistrate of the nation.

The election to the presidency of the man who, in his youth, had abandoned a peaceful career as a physician to become an Indian fighter on the western frontier, followed a political campaign famous for its partisan fervor. There had been vast camp meetings, torch-light processions, the flaunting of party banners, the wearing of party emblems and the singing of party songs.

It was the first national triumph of the Whigs in 16 years and the members of that party swarmed in to Washington to celebrate the victory. For several days prior to the inauguration visitors poured in from distant states and on the eve of the ceremony there was a great influx of citizens from the contiguous states of Maryland and Virginia. They came by land and water, in carriages, on horseback and afoot.

Sleeping quarters were at a premium and furniture dealers became opulent from the sale of cots. Long before sunrise of the morning of March 4, 1841, the shrill whistle of the cars and the tramping of feet along Pennsylvania avenue gave notice that the auspicious day of inauguration had arrived. At sunrise a salute of 26 guns was fired from the Mall. Soon after citizens, roused from their slumbers, thronged the avenue.

Proceeding the general in the parade were his old comrades of the Indian wars and the War of 1812, proud that a soldier had been elevated to the head of the nation. General Harrison, who had come from retirement on his farm in Ohio, wore the clothes of a plain citizen.

From windows on both sides of Pennsylvania avenue ladies waved handkerchiefs, the new President returning their smiles and greetings with repeated bows. In the parade were several Tippecanoe clubs and a large log cabin float, on the roof of which were white flags bearing the names of states which gave their electoral votes to General Harrison.

"Look out for pickpockets," was the warning caption above an article in the National Intelligencer, a Washington newspaper of that time, which said:

"The light fingered gentry are very active and have already robbed a great number of strangers at the depots at Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. They go in gangs and crowds about a person when in the hurry and bustle of getting his baggage and commit the act. Let the conductors warn passengers and let the public generally be on guard during the inauguration."

Mrs. Harrison, who was an invalid at the time, remained at her home at North Bend, Ohio. The mistress of the executive mansion was Mrs. Jane Findlay Harrison, widow of the second son of the president. Exactly one month after the inauguration the country was plunged into sorrow by the news of the death of the President. He was 68, the oldest of the presidents at inauguration, but apparently in fine health. He contracted a severe cold when he was caught in the rain while taking a long walk before breakfast. Pneumonia developed and death came eight days later.

He was the first President to die in office and his funeral drew to Washington more citizens than even his inauguration. The funeral procession was two miles long buildings in the capital were hung with streamers and festoons of black, and almost every private dwelling had crepe up on the door knockers. There were 26 pallbearers, one for each state, who wore white scarfs and black crepe.

The coffin, covered with a pall of black velvet embroidered with gold, was placed on a magnificent funeral car drawn by eight white horses, attended by grooms dressed in white. The conqueror of Tecumseh, the Indian Bonaparte, was laid to rest to the tolling of bells and the firing of minute guns throughout the country.

THE DOCTOR

The doctor is patient, and tender and true.
He faithfully weathers the gale
To call at your hearth when a pain vexes you,
And keep your health hearty and hale.

Through harsh, crashing thunders and torrents of rain,
Or snows and the cold arctic chill,
He goes in his automobile or his plane
To vanquish your aches when you're ill.

He comes to your home with his mystery-case

It may be a liquid in form;
Whatever he chooses, you'll find through his skill,
May marvelous healing perform.

He feels of your pulse and he looks at your tongue;

He asks what you eat now and then;

He lists to the heart-throbs, examines each lung,

Then asks you more questions again.

EXPENSES FOR HIGHER SCHOOLS BUT SMALL PART

Comptroller of State University Gives Some Statistics

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Public expenditure for "higher education" is but a small portion of the total spent in Illinois for schools, Lloyd Morey, Comptroller of the University of Illinois and a recognized authority on state and municipal finances said.

"The average property tax rate in urban communities in Illinois is about four dollars per hundred dollars assessed valuation," Professor Morey said, "the assessed valuation being supposedly based upon full value. Of this sum the amount levied for all state purposes is 30 cents, of which less than 7 cents goes to the support of the university, or less than two per cent of the total."

"On the other hand, when we consider all taxes paid by the citizens of Illinois for every purpose, we find only approximately seven tenths of one per cent would represent the amount applicable to the university. These figures clearly indicate that the expense of higher education does not contribute noticeably to the total tax burden."

"Furthermore, the expense to the state for maintaining State schools of higher education is not as a rule even a major part of the total expense of the state government. Out of total appropriations of the current biennium by the Illinois legislature payable out of the revenues of the biennium and not including those payable out of the proceeds of bond issues, the university appropriations are at present 9.9 per cent."

"Prior to the coming of state universities, higher education was available only to those who could pay. The great purpose of the state university has been to change that condition. Nothing should divert it from that noble mission. In a democracy, such as ours, the college doors should be open to all to enter and they should be permitted to remain as long as their work and conduct upon the campus justify entitles them to stay. Any other course is inconsistent without institutions."

"Every increase in fees in state universities and colleges tends to hinder the carrying out of this original purpose and 'closes the door of opportunity to a few more of its youth'. A scheme of larger fees would place a much greater handicap on those less able to pay. An added cost of two hundred dollars and more a year would put a college education beyond the reach of no small number who can now take advantage of it."

The tendency toward an aristocracy in circles of higher education is more increased by increased increased costs. In the past a thoroughly democratic condition has generally prevailed in our state institutions. They have not proven uninviting to young people from homes of wealth and at the same time have been within the reach of those of less means or, in fact, without resources at all. This is the condition that is most desirable."

Rockford Wants $400,000 Armory; Wright Heads Committee

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—With Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb, a strong administration man "watchdog of the state treasury" at his post as chairman of the appropriations committee, state senators have evinced little desire to introduce appropriation bills.

Since Governor Emmerson issued his edict that state business is to be conducted on a "dollar's worth of work for a dollar's pay," there has been a tendency on the part of the Senate to let appropriation bills originate in the House. Several bills involving appropriations have been

THE RULES

1.—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, is three strokes. COW, HOW, HEW HEN.

2.—You can change only one letter at a time.

3.—You must have a complete word of common usage, for each pump slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4.—The order of letters cannot be changed.

WOMAN RETIRES AS RAIL CHIEF AFTER 30 YEARS

Miss Katherine Wilson Was Manager of Profitable Belt Line

Alton, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Miss Katherine Wilson has resigned after 30 years service with the railroad of which she was virtually in charge in recent years.

The rise from stenographer to assistant to the general manager while the line grew from a six-mile single industry road to a 50-mile line serving one of the most active industrial districts in the middle-west. When she was an executive assistant the Illinois Terminal Railroad achieved the reputation of being one of the most profitable railroads in the country.

The belt line was sold eight months ago to the Illinois Power & Light Corporation, which also controls the Illinois Traction System, better known as the McKinley lines, for a reported $7,500,000. The value of the property was traced to Miss Wilson's management, railroad operators affirm.

Miss Wilson has attempted several times to resign since the road was sold, but the new owners repeatedly urged her to remain. She gave as her reason for resigning that under the new control, the road is too large, as about 450 miles of track would come under her direction, and she felt she had devoted enough of her life to working and wished to retire. Despite her resignation, Miss Wilson will retain an office in the railroad headquarters and act in an advisory capacity.

It was reported at the time of the sale, Miss Wilson received a gift approximating $100,000 in appreciation of her long services from the former owners. As far as can be learned Miss Wilson never owned stock in the line.

FOUR ATTRIBUTES OF MEN SOUGHT BY BIG BUSINESS

Pleasing Personality, Self-Support, Scholarship Needed

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 6. —(AP)—Big business men want University graduates who possess a quartet of attributes—pleasing personality, high scholarship, prominence in extra-curricular activities, and a degree of self-support.

That is the opinion of Laurence E. Kline, assistant dean of the College of Commerce at the University of Illinois, who has received inquiries during the past year from 131 large industrial firms that had openings for college men. The number of men desired by the individual establishments ranged from one to forty.

Foremost in the interest of the men doing the hiring is a desire to have the applicant, to talk with him and to size him up personally, Mr. Kline said. For this purpose interviews are arranged when members of the personnel departments of various firms visit the campus. Thirty-six concerns sent representatives to the campus last year to talk with students, while others arranged for interviews elsewhere.

"There is no uniformity in the criteria of personnel men," he said. "But after personality, I would name three factors, scholarship, outside activities and self-support, that are prime considerations."

"If a high school graduate could come to the University with proper appreciation of the value that business men place on scholarship it might start him off on the right foot in his studies. The personnel men come in and look over the scholastic records of the student. If it is poor, particularly in the line of work in which the firm is engaged, his chances for obtaining employment are slim."

Varicolored tabs are used to group the men for the college of commerce files. It is here that the concerns check up on the candidates in the analysis of their records.

Mr. Kline said that the outside activities and extent of self-reliance are factors considered as an index to the initiative of the men. If the student has worked his way through school, the employers believe that his judgment of value will be more mature than that of his dependent classmates.

The students are classified for the various types of work in which they are interested. These include foreign trade, insurance, manufacturing, production, personnel of administration, public utilities, traffic and transportation.

portation, trade associations, investment banking, sales work and teaching.

Among the companies that maintain contact with Mr. Kline are General Electric, Illinois Bell Telephone, Armour & Company, Kresge, Goodrich Rubber, Guaranty of New York, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, American Telegraph & Telephone, Westinghouse Electric.

With Hence on His Trip Around State of Illinois

BY CHARLES BONCE
(Associated Press News Editor)

Taylorville, Ill., Feb. 6.—(AP)—When Martin Hanon came overland from Tennessee in the fall of 1818 to become Christian county's first settler he found nothing here but wolves and Indians, with the accent on the wolves.

He fought off the wolves, dickered with the Indians, eventually replaced his tent with a more permanent log dwelling and announced to whatever part of the world that cared to listen that he had come to stay.

Others followed his example, and presently another portion of nature's domain was taken over by the white man. The civilizing process continued through the century and if Martin Hanon could return here today he would find the scene of his contests with the wolves and the Indians transformed into a pleasant city of 11,000 with up to date business buildings, well ordered streets and lawns and rows of attractive homes in the center of a rich agricultural area.

He also would find great coal mines, examining the underground wealth that he little dreamed existed beneath his feet, busy factories turning out products of which he never had heard, and modern newspapers bringing news of the world that he never was to know.

Hanon, however, no doubt would read with interest today's Associated Press story in the Taylorville Breeze that great bands of hungry ferocious wolves were overrunning eastern Europe terrorizing inhabitants of isolated villages.

He fought plenty of them back in those almost fabulous days of the early part of the last century. Old chronicles of Christian county relate that the beasts traveled in great bands and, as an early writer quaintly worded it "annoyed the early settlers." The same account continues that as late as 1840 it was dangerous to cross the prairies at night.

The prairies are gone. In their place are great corn fields. And against Martin Hanon's log cabin in the tower of the court house built in 1902 at a cost of $180,000. This cost, they will tell you here, was $222,000.

under the estimate on which the tax levy was made—an interesting fact worthy of note.

The Taylorville Breeze, published by Frank Reed, Taylorville postmaster, and C. F. Jewell, a member of the Associated Press, devoted a special issue last year to detailing the civic and industrial developments of the city.

In that issue you will read of the Peabody Coal company which owns five mines in the neighborhood of Taylorville and employs three thousand men. Or, better still, Mr. Jewell will drive you to one of the mines on the outskirts of the city for a close up of operations. A map of the underground working of the mine shows it a city itself, with streets, a transportation system and suburbs.

The surface scene, however, is peaceful enough, giving little hint of the intense activity beneath the surface. But it is near the close of day and a shift of miners is coming to the surface. They emerge grimy of face, but awaiting them is a huge shower room.

There should be some good boxers and wrestlers among these men. Most of them have physiques a Greek god might envy. Broad shoulders, deep chests, knotted muscles and lean waists are theirs. Mine work seems to be an enemy of paunches.

After the shower they are away to their homes—neat, well kept houses and cottages along paved streets lined with pleasant trees.

Next there is the Hopper Paper company, employing two hundred men and just now enlarging its activities. The company is planning to experiment in the manufacture of corn paper. Three railroads make Taylorville the port of call, and the terminal shops of one of them—the C. & I. M.—are located here.

The Parker Publishing company has been doing business here for forty-one years, producing school text books and a monthly magazine, "School News" which has a considerable circulation in the American educational field.

Taylorville has a new post office, a golf course, a well stocked public library and an attractive park of 55 acres containing playgrounds, a swimming pool, a steel auditorium with a seating capacity of 4,000 and a tourists' camp.

Mention should not be missing of Christian County's biggest industry—farming. Here Col. George Grant Seaman farms 3,000 acres—with horses. Col. Seaman maintains that the day of the horses on the farm instead of being over, is just beginning.

Before it is too late, try FRUITOLA. It may be secured at all drug stores and your own druggist will recommend it. One dose of this wonderful medicine shows results. Fruit Medicine Co., Monticello, Ill.

He uses forty horses in five teams of eight each.

Where did Taylorville get its name? From John Taylor of Springfield, Ill. Some early residents protested that the "ville" part of the name was a handicap, labeling the town as a village, but this opposition did not prevail.

Selected as the county seat in May 20, 1832, Taylorville has contributed its share to the historical annals of the state. Lincoln was a frequent visitor here for circuit court sessions between 1847 and 1857. This is commemorated in a tablet erected in the court house square in 1921 by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The history of Christian county contains many references to the "deep snow" of the winter of 1830-31, but more remarkable still is the story of the "sudden freeze" in January, 1836. The following account of the "freeze" is taken from an old chronicle:

"A lady who is an old settler has left the following record of her recollections of this wonderful change in the temperature. The lady said that she and her family had just finished the noon day meal and were sitting at the fire place enjoying the warmth. Presently, looking from the window of her cabin she noticed a heavy black cloud in the west, which seemed to be rapidly approaching. 'Needing water, she took a bucket to the well, one hundred yards from the house, filled it and started for home. Before reaching the house the wind struck her and upset a portion of the water on her clothing. 'The cold air seemed to cut like a knife and before she reached the house her dress and apron were frozen stiff in a solid sheet of ice. Ponds which a moment before were free of ice were frozen over in a few minutes. Many persons were frozen to death who happened to be caught away from home and many others, before they could get to a place of shelter, had their faces, ears, hands and feet frozen.

Immediately preceding the storm the ground had been slightly covered with snow, which, from rain falling in the morning, had become slushy. Cattle that were in the fields were held fast by the slush freezing about their feet, and it was necessary to cut away the ice to liberate them. Duck and geese were imprisoned in the same way.

"It was scarcely ten minutes after the cold wave swept over the place until the water and melting snow was hard enough to hold up a man on horseback."

TIRED?

BY PROF. G. VIVIAN
Detroit, Michigan

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate to the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W. Washington, D. C.)

Most people take breathing as a matter of course, thinking it is something that will take care of itself. This attitude can be understood in the younger generation, because nature is kinder to them. They run, jump and exert themselves in their sports and recreations, and they are of necessity compelled to breathe deeply.

As we grow older and are engaged in the problem of working for a living, we stop competing in sports and no longer enjoy our former recreations. Consequently we never breathe as we were meant to breathe, that is, deeply. We are satisfied with shallow breathing that brings a modicum of air into our lungs. Our chests become smaller, our lungs are in danger of disease, our vigor is lost. Why?

Let us see what happens when we breathe. Venous blood laden with poison from the body enters the heart and is carried to the lungs where it is purified by contact with the air. Obviously, if shallow breaths are taken, only a limited amount of air will be available. As a consequence, the blood is not thoroughly purified and the poisons are again taken through the body by the arteries. This accounts for that lazy, tired, sluggish feeling, dizzy spells, loss of vigor, etc.

Whereas if deep breathing, through the nose, is practiced, especially where the air is fresh and pure, then a maximum supply of oxygen is available in the lungs, the poisons are carried away and the blood is oxidized and purified. You will feel like a different person and will be exhilarated by this simple exercise.

Try this prescription at no cost to yourself. Breathe deeply and really live.

SPORTS
OF ALL SORTSLOUGHRAN WINS
FROM EMANUEL
IN FAST MATCHStaged Rally in the Final Rounds to Cop the Decision

Los Angeles, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Tommy Loughran, light heavyweight champion and aspirant to the heavy-weight title, scored his second victory over Emanuel Emanuel last night and whatever hopes the fighting law student may have held to occupy the throne vacated by Gene Tunney again faded.

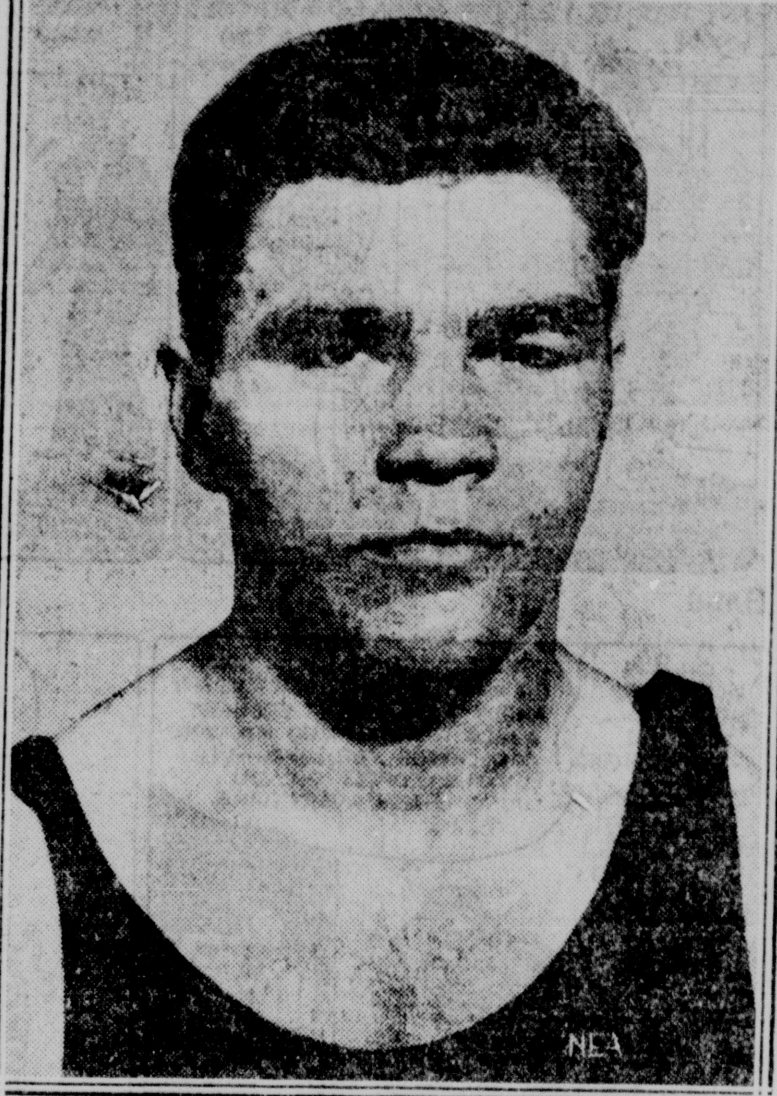

Emanuel, however, looked good in defeat and as upon the occasion of their first battle in New York several months ago, the decision was given to the champion over the protest of many of the fans. Those at the ring-side, however, were unanimous in backing up the verdict by Referee Abe Ross.

Upset in the seventh by a hard left hook on the point of the jaw, and on the short end in the eighth, Loughran staged a furious finish in the remaining two rounds.

Climaxing a round that to all appearances was his, Emmanuel hooked a left to Loughran's jaw in the seventh that sent the champion to the mat. Loughran was up without a count, however, and there was furious mixup at the bell. The Emanuel left, missing fire through most of the early sessions, was in constant action in the eighth, jangling to Loughran's head and body with sufficient regularity to give him the round. Loughran's pace in the ninth was terrific and he gained a wide margin with a vicious attack of left and right hands to head and body. He carried the same pace into the tenth, outscoring the westerner at every turn.

Loughran weighed 182 3/4 pounds to Emanuel's 180.

Her Maxie From Germany

Max Schmelling, young German heavyweight fighter, has been pronounced by some critics to be one of the most promising young heavies in the game. Schmelling is said to bear a resemblance to Jack Dempsey, both in his ring actions and in looks.

prize fight promoters.

Their complaint was that they were forced to buy much more display space in the papers than the boxing and baseball people and that the routine publicity they got was not always favorable.

They couldn't understand why the raps on an inferior sport show were so mild compared with the criticism of the dramatic writers who could and did write shows right off Broadway.

But they can't complain about the reception the New York newspapers have given to the plans of Jack Dempsey and the Garden people to put on the prize fight in Miami between Sharkey and Stribling.

AIN'T FAIR BY OUR JACK

New York writers have been tearing the living hide off the fight and the raps, through syndicate writers, have appeared in the metropolitan press of other sections of the country.

For once, the situation has been reversed. The writers are not taking the word of the promoters that the fight is to be a financial success. They are asking for proof that it is not going to be an awful flop.

NO MYSTERY NOW

It is the opinion of some persons, who knew of Tex Rickard's real ambitions in Florida, that he did not expect the fight to be a great financial success. He had his usual optimism but he was prepared to take the rap if someone had to take it. He is said to have promised the Garden fellows their end if the bout

Soft Spot for Jack

Young Jack Merriam ought to be in a good soft spot on the University of Pennsylvania swimming team. He is a good swimmer and his father, Jack Sr., is the coach of the team. But young Merriam had to go out and win his place on the team on his own skill. The two Merriams, father and son, are shown in the above picture.

made money and to have agreed to take it on the nose personally if it happened to be a flop.

Rickard, they say, had ambitions to establish a Monte Carlo at Miami Beach. He wanted to operate the finest gambling establishment in the world and a big heavyweight fight there was expected to do what his Gans-Nelson fight did to Goldfield—get a lot of people there to play the wheel or sit in on faro.

Americans and Jap
Lead Billiard Meet

New York, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The first complete turn of the wheel in the robin tournament for the world's 18.2 billiard championship today found two Americans and a Japanese tied for the lead.

Taking European opponents over the hurdles with some difficulty in yesterday's matches, Welker Cochran, of Hollywood, and Young Jake Schaefer of Chicago, forced their way to a triple deadlock with Kinrey Matsuyama for the pace-setting position. Each has won one match and lost none. Down in the cellar are

WILDCATS ARE SETTING PACE
FOR "BIG TEN"Defeated Indiana at Bloomington Last Evening

Chicago, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Northwestern University's up and coming basketball team today held undisputed leadership of the second division in the Western Conference title scramble while Indiana was a notch nearer the cellar.

The rise of Northwestern came about last night, when the Wildcats defeated the Hoosiers 31 to 30 at Bloomington by holding on desperately to their one-point lead during the closing minutes of play. Northwestern led throughout most of the first half but a rally shoved Indiana into a 15 to 14 lead as the half ended. The co-holders of the Big Ten title resumed their fast work in the second period but Northwestern jumped into the lead on some brilliant basket shooting by Captain Hal Fleichman.

Both teams played with make shift lineups. Captain Wells was out of the Indiana lineup because of scholastic difficulties while Rut Walter, Northwestern center, watched the game from the side lines. Captain Fleichman played the entire game with a fractured rib.

With three consecutive wins over Ohio State, Iowa and Indiana, after dropping the first three conference tilts, Northwestern's stock has risen. The Wildcats have yet to meet Purdue, Indiana and Michigan on their home court and Wisconsin in a home affair.

WHERE'S YOUR HORSE?

Ray Miller, county prosecutor in Cleveland, tells a story on his brother Don. It might be recalled that Don was a halfback at Notre Dame where three other brothers, including the prosecutor, distinguished themselves also.

Don and three other fellows in the Notre Dame backfield happened to be rather widely known throughout the state of Indiana at the time and Don found himself somewhat of a hero when he went to Indianapolis for a holiday visit.

"Governor," he said, "this is Don Miller. He is one of the 'Four Horsemen.'"

"Well, well," the governor greeted him affably. "I certainly am glad to meet you. I enjoyed the picture immensely. It was a great picture."

The tragic end of Forbidden Love

Was it an accident—or a jealous wife's revenge?

WITH a sigh of relief, Charles Asherton sank back against the cushions of the cab. At last he had eluded his wife. Now he and Marie Norton could enjoy their forbidden rendezvous...

Ahead of him the glare of headlights from Marie's sleek roadster cut into the blackness. Swiftly, silently, his cab followed. Soon they would be together at the deserted roadhouse far outside the city limits. The very thought of it warmed his veins like wine.

Suddenly the glare of the road brightened as another car shot around the bend directly behind them. The shriek of its siren tore the night apart with its frenzy. "Some drunken fool," Asherton thought as the big sedan careened madly ahead of the cab.

But the driver called back to him, "A woman is driving that car. She must be crazy. Watch her—"

And as he watched, Asherton's blood froze with horror. The big sedan was heading straight for the roadster—and in another instant they had crashed!

Asherton leaped from the cab and ran to the tangled wreck of the roadster, which had been turned completely around by the terrific impact. He fought desperately to release Marie's unconscious body. Then glancing toward the other car, he saw, struggling to free herself from the wreckage—his wife.

His own wife. The woman he had tortured by neglect, dishonored. What did it mean? Had she in some way discovered their secret rendezvous?

Had she deliberately set out to forestall their clandestine meeting? Was this tragic wreck an accident—or had she, in a jealous fury, and at the risk of her own life, coldly determined to take revenge on the woman who stole her husband's love?

Only two persons know the actual story; and one of them tells it with startling honesty in the March issue of True Story Magazine. It is a daring revelation—don't miss it!

There are many reasons for the ease of steering
the new Ford

THE new Ford is exceptionally easy to steer because of the well-proportioned weight of the car, the steel-spoke wheels, the coordinated design of springs and shock absorbers, the size and design of the steering wheel, and the simple mechanical construction of the steering gear.

The Ford steering gear is of the worm and sector type used on high-priced cars and is three-quarter irreversible.

In simple, non-technical language, this means that the car responds easily and quickly to the steering wheel, yet there is no danger of the wheel being jerked from the hands of the driver by ruts or bumps in the road. A light touch guides the car, yet you always have that necessary feel-of-the-road so essential to good driving.

Strength of materials and careful workmanship give unusual stability to the Ford steering gear and housing.

The steering worm, for instance, is splined to the steering worm shaft and is stronger, of course, than if a single key were used to hold the shaft and worm together. The steering worm sector is forged and machined in the same piece with its shaft.

The housing of the steering gear mechanism is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together. This housing is then electrically welded to the steering column. Such a one-piece steel unit is naturally much sturdier than if several parts were used and bolted or riveted together.

Throughout, the steering mechanism of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no attention.

The only thing for you to do is to have the front steering spindles, spindle connecting rods, and drag link lubricated every 500 miles and the steering gear lubricated every 2000 miles. This is easy to do because of the high pressure grease gun lubricator fittings provided for these parts.

For this work, you will find it best to consult the Ford dealer. He has been specially trained and equipped to help you get the greatest possible use from your car over the longest period of time at the least trouble and expense.

BETTER CHANCES FOR ARMY BIRD- MEN IS URGED

Lone Eagle Adds His Plea
For Action by The Congress

BY RODNEY BUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington, Feb. 6.—If Colonel Lindbergh's recommendations concerning aviation carry any particular weight in Congress, the Furlow bill to recognize the services and risks of army aviators by a better promotion system, probably will become a law at this session.

Officers of the air corps throughout the country are intensely interested in the bill. It is threatened that a considerable number of them will resign and enter commercial aviation, as many have in the past, if the bill does not go through. The measure, passed by the house, is now with the Senate.

Sponsored by Congressman Allen J. Furlow of Minnesota, the bill provides a separate air corps promotion list for all air corps officers below colonel. Flying officers could be promoted to first lieutenant after three years of commissioned service, to captain after seven years, to major after 12 years, to lieutenant colonel after 20 years, to colonel after 26 years. Officers would be eligible for retirement after 30 years service.

Lindbergh's Reasons.

Lindbergh, in a signed statement that Furlow read in the house before that body passed the bill, said promotion stagnation had caused a serious situation in the corps. "The average army air corps officer is holding a command far above his rank," Lindbergh explained. "His prospects of promotion are discouraging, and the opportunities offered by commercial aviation are far greater than those in his army life. Military flying is more hazardous than commercial flying and will become more so as safety appliances are developed which cannot be used in combat planes. Also, the physical strain on an army pilot in carrying out military missions is not comparable to that of commercial transportation. It is of utmost necessity at the present time to take steps toward building up the morale of our air corps if we expect to maintain its past standard of efficiency. Rank commensurate with command is of prime importance. Unless steps are taken to relieve the present situation we will lose many more of our officers in the near future. In my opinion a separate promotion list will accomplish much in building up an efficient air corps in the United States."

Non-Flyers Get Posts.
With about 8 percent of the army's officer personnel, the air corps has 40 percent of the peacetime casualties. Without a separate promotion list, the post of an officer killed in a plane crash is nearly always filled by an officer of some other branch than the air corps.

Because the air corps officers average considerably more time in training during the war than others, they find themselves heaped at the bottom of the promotion list, with an exaggerated proportion of first lieutenants far away from elevation to captaincies or anything higher. The average first lieutenant receives a base pay of $2500, with 50 percent additional for flying.

"World war pilots," Furlow says, "are still serving as first lieutenants, charged with responsibilities normally given to captains, majors, lieutenant colonels and even colonels."

Future Now Limited.
"Morale is low because a first lieutenant cannot look for anything better than being a captain, or maybe a major, by the time he must retire. The bill gives accelerated promotion to young flyers while they are giving the best years of their lives to the service of their country."

Furlow explains that the bill would not apply to any non-flying officer. He points out that all but one of the round-the-world army flyers have resigned from the service since their famous flight a few years ago and cites other facts to show that some of the nation's most valuable aviators have been leaving the service to accept responsible positions in civil aviation. He believes that as many as 100 officers are likely to resign.

But soften the water with Melo and no scum forms. No dirty ring. No grayish white clothes. Melo and water is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It saves soap, too, from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. It makes soap more effective. It makes clothes white. Get it at your grocer's.

Mr. Conner, who is well advanced in years, has been ailing for some time, although he has been able to be up and around. Since he lives all alone his friends thought it would be best to have him receive the best of care, especially during the cold weather, and decided to have him removed to the hospital. Mr. Conner's condition is not considered critical and it is hoped within a short time he will be able to be on the streets conversing with his old friends.

Why Try to Change
the Climate?

Don't try to heat "all out doors" It can't be done—yet millions of dollars are wasted that way every winter. Are you using the heat you pay for, or allowing it to escape through the roof?

INSULITE

is the answer; it keeps heat in in winter, and keeps heat out in summer. The greatest aid to home comfort is insulation. The proper insulation is INSULITE—the wood-fiber insulating board—double-purpose material that is good insulation and has fine structural value.

Don't Take a Chance

Don't let your customers have their axles heated to straighten them, talk them out of it for SAFETY'S SAKE, a heated axle will bend again after heating from just ordinary use, it may do more than bend because axles of today are made from far different kinds of steels than a few years back, don't take any chances. Every car manufacturer today strongly advises NOT TO HEAT AXLES in straightening, four wheel brakes make a lot of difference on front axles, front brakes put a strain on the axle, axles are stronger now than before but they will bend in a wreck or collision.

This NEW HYDRAULIC STRAIGHTENING PRESS will straighten axles cold as manufacturers say to straighten them. It will also take care of steel disc wheels, put them in perfect line as when new. We believe that we are the only ones in this locality doing this kind of work and want to call attention to this to all garages in and around DIXON, we will give you quick service, bring in the next axle or steel disc wheel that needs straightening, we will show you a REAL JOB.
